RECENT GRADUATES PASS ADVANCED BUSINESS SPANISH LANGUAGE EXAM

Rosemont, PA- Two recent Rosemont College graduates, Daria Daphne Duarte (Narberth, PA) and Alana Ferriea da Silva (Bryn Mawr, PA) have passed the Certificado Superior de Español de los Negocios. Sponsored by the Madrid Chamber of Commerce, the exam serves as proof of superior Spanish language knowledge in the business sector. The young women took the exam at Rosemont College, an official testing site, in July and were notified of their passing in September, 2007.

“As an official certification from the Madrid Chamber of Commerce, these exams are very valued by American companies, organizations, and even schools,” said Mercedes Gracia, Ph.D., Spanish Discipline Chair for Rosemont’s Undergraduate Women’s College. “Receiving this level of aptitude is in itself a noteworthy accomplishment.”

Candidates interested in taking the Certificado Superior de Español de los Negocios should reach a level of grammar knowledge corresponding to the avanzado level of the Instututo Cervanets curriculum before taking the examination. It is expected that candidates are able to express themselves and handle situations of everyday life as well as fundamental business activities.
